Managing honeybees can be a very rewarding enterprise and a profitable sideline. Some keep bees for the honey they produce while others for pollination they provide.

Penn State Cooperative Extension and the Beaver Valley Area Beekeepers, Westmoreland County Beekeepers, Armstrong/Indiana County Beekeepers and the Central Western PA Beekeepers have put together this Beginning Beekeeping Workshop to help answer your questions and help you avoid many pitfalls as you begin. This workshop is designed to help you understand the things that are necessary to get started in beekeeping, and you're encouraged to ask questions as they arise in your mind. You will learn about many aspects of beekeeping, and hopefully you will be intrigued to continue with your venture.

If you know others interested in learning about beekeeping, please feel free to copy this brochure and pass it along!
